About UCD

University College Dublin is Ireland's largest and most richly diversified university. It provides a broad range of courses grouped into six Colleges: Arts and Humanities, Business Engineering and Architecture, Health and Agricultural Sciences, Social Sciences and Law, and Science.

UCD traces its origins to the Catholic University of Ireland founded in 1854 by Cardinal John Henry Newman, author of the celebrated 'The Idea of a University'. Today UCD is a vibrant, modern university of approximately 25,000 students situated on a spacious and leafy campus some 5km to the south of Dublin city centre.

About Dublin

Located on the east coast of Ireland, Dublin began as a Viking settlement founded over one thousand years ago. In the 21st century, with a population of over one million people, Dublin is the thriving capital of the Republic of Ireland and is the centre of the political, diplomatic, administrative and commercial life of the country.

Famous for its literary tradition, Ireland's capital has been home to writers from Jonathan Swift to William Butler Yeats and James Joyce. A visit to Dublin allows you to explore both the historical and the modern, from castles and churches to cafés and clubs.
