King's College London – K. C. Wong Postdoctoral Fellowships

Applications are invited for one-year post-doctoral fellowships at King's College London. Four (4) fellowships are available each year, generously supported by the K. C. Wong Education Foundation.

Successful applicants will receive a Fellowship to undertake research in one of the following Faculties of King's:

- Faculty of Dentistry, Oral & Craniofacial Sciences;
- Faculty of Life Sciences & Medicine;
- Faculty of Natural, Mathematical & Engineering Sciences;
- Florence Nightingale Faculty of Nursing, Midwifery & Palliative Care; and
- Institute of Psychiatry, Psychology & Neuroscience

The Fellowship will consist of subsistence costs (tax exempt) at King's Grade 6/7 levels and consumables (as per Faculties' discretion).

Period of the Fellowship

- 1st October 2022 to 30th September 2023
  This is an absolute requirement. Candidates must start on 1st October.
- Please note that fellows will not be permitted to hold multiple funds/awards concurrently with the funds awarded under this Fellowships Scheme. In this scenario, funding and duration for this Fellowships scheme will be adjusted pro-rata.

Applicant eligibility

- be current residents of the People's Republic of China (PRC)
- hold a PhD degree
- be within 10 years of the award of a PhD degree
- be scientists of post-doctoral level or equivalent status who are employed by a scientific or academic institution in the PRC, or who have confirmed employment with such institutions after the completion of their fellowships
- agree to return to work in the PRC and contribute to the field of their studies/research, after completion of the fellowships
- have a good command of spoken and written English (for work and visa requirements)

Application process

1. Interested applicants should first contact the King's researcher with whom they wish to work, to obtain agreement to host a fellowship.
2. Submit the following documents as ONE (1) PDF to globalengagement@kcl.ac.uk by the deadline of 5pm on Monday 31 January 2022 (U.K. time):
   a. CV (maximum 2 pages)
   b. An outline of the research project (maximum 1 page)
   c. Letter of support from current supervisor(s) in China (maximum 1 page and if applicable, signatures from each supervisor on the same letter); and
   d. Letter of support from the proposed King's academic supervisor including confirmation of approval from the Head of Division (maximum 1 page).

Successful applicants will be notified in mid-April 2022. Shortlisted candidates may also be invited for a short interview, held online.
